UNIVERSITY OF PÉCS

OPEN

the door to your future!

WELCOME

to the University of Pécs!

A place founded in history but always looking to the future.

The University of Pécs opened its doors in 1367, making it the first and oldest institution of its kind in Hungary. With longer and shorter interruptions, UP has been shaping the young academic society for over six-and-a-half centuries, not just in Hungary, but internationally as well.

With a tradition of more than 30 years of offering degree programs in English, the University has become one of the most internationalized institutions in Hungary. We now proudly host over 4,500 foreign students representing more than 110 countries all over of the world.

Our multi-campus institution includes 10 faculties and several research centers, offering a wide palette of 70 programs taught in English and German that cover almost every aspect of modern academia, from medicine, natural sciences, engineering, art and political science to law, business and economics, every student can find the perfect program for themselves and their future careers!

Have a stimulating, challenging and academically rewarding experience!

The University of Pécs represents classical values while successfully adapting to the present and using diverse methods of teaching. Well-known and recognized professors, well-equipped classrooms and dormitories enable students to get the best out of their education abroad.

As a part of the European higher education system, UP operates in the terms of the Bologna process offering the three-tier system consisting of bachelor level programs (BA, BSc) which last 6-8 semesters, master level programs (MA, MSc) with a duration of 2-4 semesters and doctoral level programs (PhD, DLA). Additionally, the University offers one-tier, undivided, long-term Master's degree programs (5-6 years) in the domain of medicine, law and engineering. Furthermore, interested students have the opportunity to experience short programs, such as preparatory courses, summer universities, and partial trainings.

As a part of the European Credit Transfer System (ECTS), credits and degrees earned in Hungary are transferable to other European institutions. This means the education gained at the University of Pécs is recognised all over the European Union.

University of Pécs is accredited by the Hungarian Accreditation Committee which is in accordance with the European Standards and Guidelines.

“Along the pressure of research papers and stressful exams, our professors maintain a supportive and understanding approach throughout the semester. There is no such thing as a stupid question, as everything is explained and answered properly. This positive atmosphere is widely sensed around campus and the city. People are very helpful and understanding, and they are very accepting of different cultures and backgrounds.

Funding and Scholarships

Self-financed international students, registered for a degree program, pay a tuition fee to the University of Pécs. The amount depends on the particular study program and level.

Furthermore, the application fee and registration fee (if there is one) depend on the study program. These two fees are non-refundable. Once transferred and received, the admission boards start the evaluation of the applicant's documents.

Stipendium Hungaricum Scholarship

International students have the opportunity to apply for the Stipendium Hungaricum Scholarship Program funded by the Hungarian Government. The full-funded scholarship covers the tuition fee, dormitory placement or a monthly contribution to accommodation costs and living expenses and health care services. Residents of countries that have valid/effective bilateral educational work plan agreement signed with Hungary are considered as eligible applicants. ## Student services

A sudden change of environment is very exciting but challenging process. To help with this, the University of Pécs has developed services to make newcomers' transitions as smooth as possible.

Student Organizations

The Student Union (PTE EHÖK) is the official representative institution of students and responsible for student affairs on university level. They represent students' interest in the highest decision-making bodies, the non-freshmen dormitory places, and they organize the bigger cultural and sports events, like the Pécsi Egyetemi Napok (Pécs University Festival) which is the largest regional festival held every May.

International Exchange Student Network (ESN) has launched the Buddy program in order to give international students assistance in their integration into university life with the help of a personal tutor (buddy). Beside the technical help (opening bank account, finding accommodation, etc.), ESN as part of the Student Union offers a great variety of free time activities and social programs.

International Student Ambassadors (ISA) are current international students who act as a link between the university and the outside community. They use their own experience to give people interested in university life an idea of what it is like to be student at the University of Pécs.

AEGEE is the largest European students' organization offering opportunities for learning, travel, recreation and building relationships at both local and international level.

AIESEC is the largest global student organization which offers a wide variety of professional programs and internship opportunities for students

“You will never get bored living and studying in Pécs. The city is clean and not crowded, along with numerous multi-cultural activities for you to experience. Life in the Campus is wonderful. The professors, teachers and staff of the University are extremely adorable. And surely, your professional career will be well-prepared by high quality study programs provided by the University of Pécs.”

Cultural Sensitization

Our Faculty of Cultural Science, Education and Regional Development organizes 5 free English-taught courses which are open to every student. These courses will help international students to learn and understand Hungarian culture, society and get a glimpse at the current social and political issues in Hungary.

Student Counselling

The service is intended to offer counselling to students enrolled in the English language programs and seeks to render professional assistance to students struggling with a plethora of challenges and difficulties evolving from potential changes or upheavals in their personal lifestyle and studies.

Campus Legal Aid Clinic

Law students, with the help of their professors, can deepen their academic knowledge by helping students if they have a question or a problem in the domain of civil wrongdoings, such as lease agreement, equal treatment, etc. The counselling is supervised and lead by a professor of law.

Foreign Language Center

The Center organizes various language courses and operates as the international center of the ECL Language Exams as well. Students of the University of Pécs have the opportunity to learn or perfect their language skills at a reduced price in foreign languages. Additionally, ECL exams can be taken in various languages which are acknowledged as an international qualification.

Sports and the Dancing University

Sporting life at the University is coordinated by the TTK Sport Center, which offers a wide range of sporting opportunities to students and staff. These include: aerobics, swimming, basketball, soccer, fencing, and more. Students can also participate in dancing courses free of charge as well, as a part of the unique 'Dancing University' initiative.

Admission requirements

In order to be eligible for university studies in Hungary, a prospective student must demonstrate that they meet several requirements for courses or programs. There are certain general entry requirements and documents that all applicants must meet and submit:

- ✓ Certificate of the previous studies (Secondary school leaving certificate, BA/BSc degree, MA/MSc degree) in English or with official translation
- ✓ Transcript of previous studies (or academic records) in English or with official translation
- ✓ Minimum upper-intermediate proficiency in the language of instruction (e.g.: IELTS 5.5, TOEFL iBT 66)
- ✓ CV in language of instruction
- ✓ Motivation letter in language of instruction

Furthermore, there may be additional entry requirements that are specific for particular programs. For example, an engineering program may require a higher level and grade of previous studies in mathematics. More information about specific entry requirements can be found on the study programs page on the University's official website: international.pte.hu/programs

“Before I got here, I had already researched my faculty, most especially my course on Google and forums. I checked all the modules I would study and also went through the profiles of my prospective lecturers on ResearchGate. I loved what I saw - the modules were not just perfect for me but would also make me a better nurse. When I got here, it was not different, my findings were accurate. I am particularly amazed by the relationship between the lecturers and the students here. The lecturers are always ready to help. I could not have wished for something better!”

Pécs, the city of many cultures

Pécs, the center of Baranya County, is the fifth largest city in Hungary. It is situated in the south-western part of the country, on the slopes of Mecsek Hills, close to the border with Croatia. Many consider Pécs an important gateway of Europe, linking Western Europe with the Balkans.

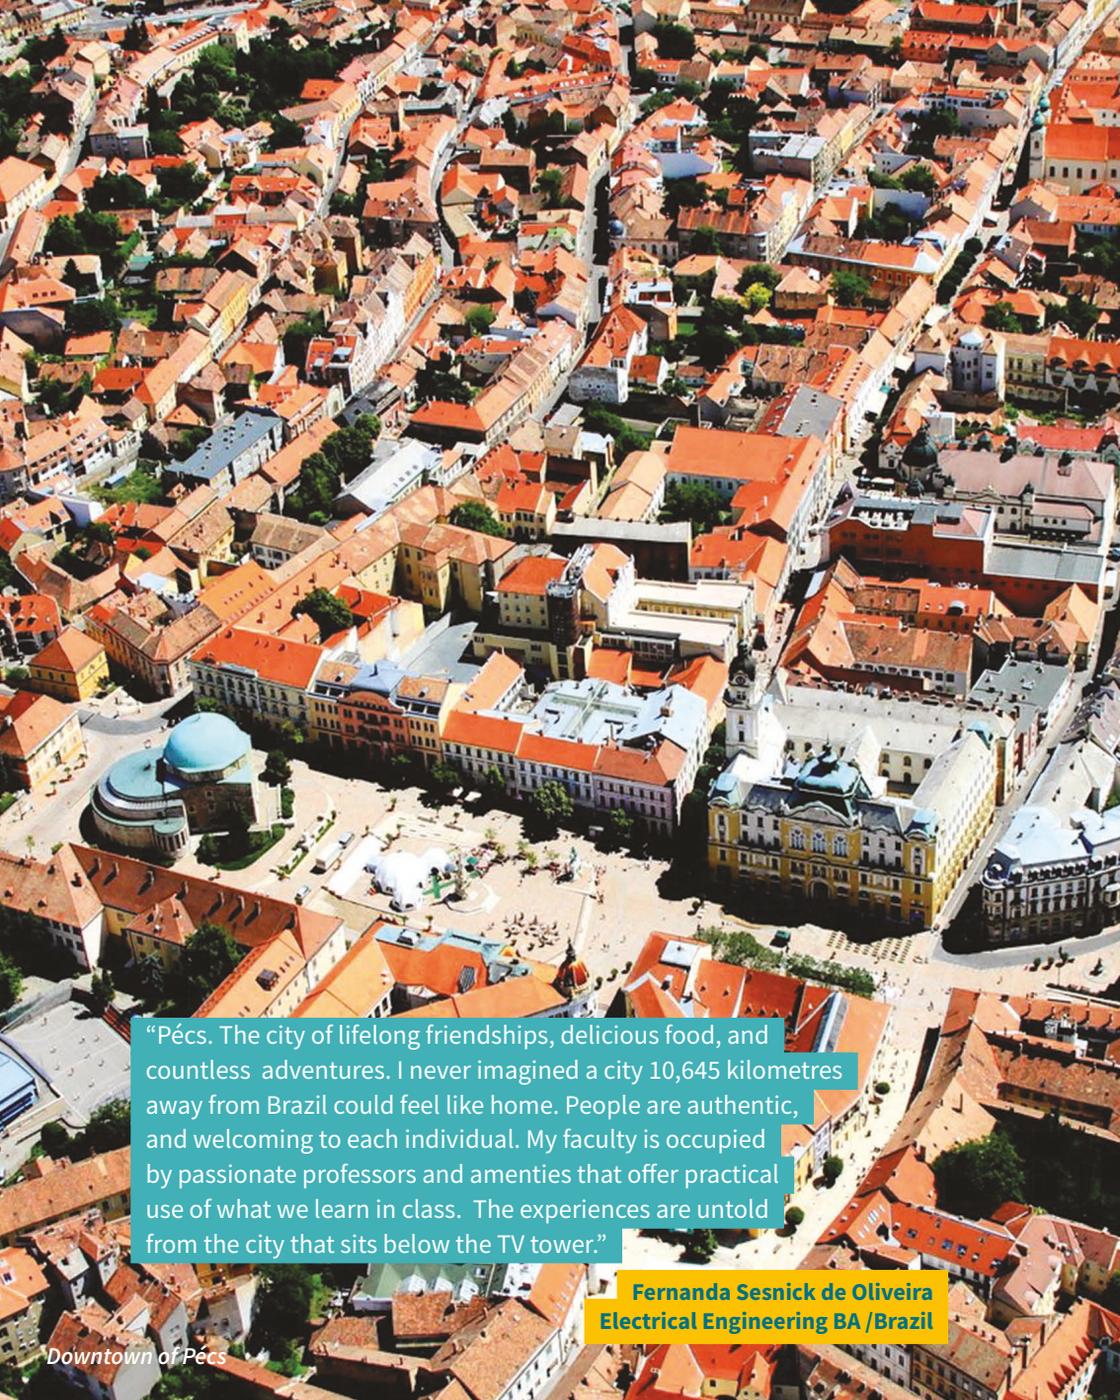

While the area has been inhabited for over 6,000 years, the first days of the modern city date back to the 2nd century, when Pécs, then Sopianae, was founded by the Romans. Many cultural layers are woven in the walls of the city which built up a rich history of more than two thousand years making it a part of the UNESCO World Heritage. Through history, Pécs changed its names, but never the historically multi cultured soul. No wonder that it was declared as the European Capital of Culture in 2010 by the European Commission.

The Mediterranean climate, picturesque streets of the historic center, vineyards on the slopes of Mecsek which are sunlit during summer and covered in snow during winter, paint a lively and colorful landscape.

Among the many names that this city carried through time, the present name – Pécs – first showed up in formal documents in the year of 1235 as “Pechyut” – with modern spelling: pécsi út, which means “road to/from Pécs”, qualifying the city as a welcoming destination for more and more international students.

Since Pécs is the center of science and education, it is frequently hosting domestic and international conferences and symposia. In terms of entertainment and events, the city offers a respective number of activities, excursions and festivals for everyone, regardless of taste or budget.

“Pécs. The city of lifelong friendships, delicious food, and countless adventures. I never imagined a city 10,645 kilometres away from Brazil could feel like home. People are authentic, and welcoming to each individual. My faculty is occupied by passionate professors and amenities that offer practical use of what we learn in class. The experiences are untold from the city that sits below the TV tower.”

Hungary in 10 pictures

The unique Hungarian language

The Hungarian language is said to be the hardest language to learn, especially as there is no other language that is like that in Europe, making it the fourth most difficult language in the whole world!

One of the oldest countries in Europe

Hungary was founded back in 896, which makes it older than France, Germany or England.

World's second leading producer of foie gras

After France, Hungary is worldwide known for producing this luxury food product made of the liver of a goose.

Hungarian inventions and 13 Nobel laureate holders

Do you know that vitamin C was discovered by Hungarian biochemist Albert Szent-Györgyi? There are so many “made in Hungary” notable inventions that contributed to the domain of medicine, chemistry, physics and technology, including: the ballpoint pen, holography, thermo-graphic camera, digital computing, Rubik's cube, and many more.

Lake Balaton – the Hungarian Sea

Hungary might be a land-locked country without an ocean, but it is home to the largest lake in Central Europe – Lake Balaton – widely known for its music festivals, sailing competitions, summer holiday destinations.

Home to the world's first official wine region

France, Spain and Italy might be more famous for their wines in general, but in Tokaj there is something special. Tokaji Aszú, the King of the Wines, as the world refers to it, "reigns" in the world's first official wine region. In fact, Louis XIV of France once said about Tokaji Aszú: "Wine of the Kings, the King of Wines".

Pálinka – the traditional Hungarian fruit brandy, cure for many ailments

Hungarian grandmas or as locally called nagymamák also swear by the power of Pálinka. They believe it is the remedy for headaches or nervousness.

Hollywood would not be Hollywood without the Hungarians

Paramount Pictures founder Adolf Zukor, Vilmos Fried (a.k.a. William Fox) and Casablanca director Michael Curtiz (formerly known Mano Kaminer) all heralded from Hungary.

The highest number of thermal springs in the world

There are more than 1500 spas in Hungary, therefore making it one of the main destinations to enjoy healing waters for thousands of years!

The country of worldwide known music festivals, sports and cultural events

Every year the world meets at numerous events that are organized in Hungary: Sziget Festival, Balaton Sound and other music festivals, Busójárás and other national folk events, international wine festivals, Budapest marathon, Hungaroring-Formula 1, World and European championships, etc.
